

City debates impact of Jarvis-Gann vote

Waterfront phase one action urged

ALBANY — Following a report made by City Engineer Robert Guletz, the Albany Waterfront Committee Thursday evening approved a proposal recommending to the city council that Phase One of the Waterfront Master Plan be authorized.

"Phase One of the closure procedure involves stabilizing the banks of the waterfront, capping (with top soil or similar materials), providing for proper drainage, and stock-piling of materials for future fills," Guletz said.

"Phase Two concerns actual construction work, but this probably will fall behind the time-table contained in the master plan because of funding problems," Guletz continued.

"The Committee also heard a report made by Ruth Ganong who attended a recent session of the Bay Conservation Development Commission (BCDC). The BCDC is attempting to compile information from all cities on the East Shore to determine the developmental possibilities. Mrs. Ganong will attend a second BCDC session on May 31 to present plans being made by the Albany Waterfront Committee."

Vial of Life program instituted in Albany

ALBANY — Albany's "Vial of Life" project, designed to provide an individual's medical history in an emergency situation, will get under way this week, the Committee on Aging announced today.

Under the new program, a plastic vial containing the medical data will be placed inside the refrigerator and a heart-shaped decal would be affixed to a window or a wall near the front door to alert rescue teams.

"In case of fire, for example, a fireman would know immediately where to find the capsule," Miriam Heath, who introduced the program locally, said.

"Seven employees from the Neighborhood Association program will distribute the vials to all citizens over sixty, and we're hoping for full cooperation from everyone we contact."

The program currently is being administered by the Parks and Recreation Department, and directed by Mrs. Heath and Fern Luoma. The Fire Department will maintain all records.

"The Vial of Life program eventually is expected to cover all households in Albany," Mrs. Heath added. "The elderly will be the first group contacted, however."

Mayors appeal for direct BART line to S.F.

ALBANY — Albany Mayor Lewis Howell was among the seven East Bay mayors who will appear at May 11 session of the BART board of directors to make an appeal for a prompt start of the new transfer Richmond - Daly City service.

The city officials' plea will be backed by a recently introduced state Senate resolution urging BART to speed up a pledge made 3½ years ago that the service would be given. Appearing at the board meeting with Howell will be Richmond's Don Wagerman, William Richard Spellman of El Cerrito, Tom Gozzano of Menlo, Ron Ardissone of Hercules and Warren Winner of Berkeley.

The mayors' plea will be backed by a recently introduced state Senate resolution brought to the floor by Sen. John Nejedly, Walnut Creek. The measure directs the BART board to begin full transfer service between Richmond and Daly City.

Coauthors of the resolution were Sen. Nicholas Petris and Assemblymen John Knox, Tom Bates and John Miller.

Nello Bianco of Richmond, vice president of the BART board, has long pushed for the promised direct service to San Francisco and Daly City. He has taken part in two recent meetings with the west Contra Costa mayors and council representatives, and he said Wednesday he will arrange a briefing session with the city officials before the scheduled May formal meeting of the board.

"I think the board will have to hear first-hand how the people of this area feel," Bianco said.

He said the local county group is expected to remind the board that it was Assemblyman Knox, whose district covers all the western Contra Costa communities, who carried a successful bill two years that extended the one-half cent sales tax that supplied BART with much needed financial help. Bianco added:

"The mayors of west Contra Costa County have supported BART for many, many years in Sacramento. This time they don't feel they should continue to be treated like second-class citizens."

Police priority sought

DOLL JET SET — Dorothy Whiting will exhibit a collection of dolls "representing most of the major nations of the world", at a spring luncheon being served by the Albany United Methodist Women, May 20, in the church at 980 Stannage Ave. The doll held by Mrs. Whiting, in the above photo, is one of the comparatively rare types that was featured recently in the publication issued by the National Federation of Doll Clubs. Those desiring reservations or additional information on the luncheon session may call Mrs. Jerome Blank, chairman of the event.

ALBANY — The Albany City Council's 4-1 decision to hire a replacement police officer foreshadows future budget battles over possible reduction of local public safety services if the controversial Jarvis-Gann initiative passes.

Councilwoman Joyce Jackson says she believes all city services may have to be drastically reduced if Proposition 13, the tax reduction initiative, is approved by the state's voters.

Mayor Lewis Howell says first priority should be given to maintaining police and fire protection services at their present level even though major cuts in other city services are needed as a result of Jarvis-Gann passage.

The council Monday night voted, with Councilwoman Jackson dissenting, to hire police officer William Palmi as a replacement for Officer Harold Evans who recently was released from duty due to a disability.

Councilwoman Jackson urged that the council postpone action until the outcome of the Jarvis-Gann vote is known and the council can begin budget deliberations, adding that the police department appears to be getting along without a replacement.

She said the city council has the responsibility for developing the budgets of all city departments although Police Chief James Simmons is an elected official. If cuts are needed in the police department, attrition is "less painful" than layoffs, she said.

Councilman Robert Luoma replied that the new officer's probationary period extends beyond the June 6 election date and the new officer will understand that he could be terminated on the basis of a budget crisis.

Councilwoman Jackson also challenged the hiring of a more expensive experienced officer instead of a rookie, but Chief Simmons replied the new man's salary is subject to negotiation and it could be fixed at the Construction for the entire year totaled $3.6 million, including five new multi-family buildings totaling 41 units, four single-family homes, and 16 room additions.

Albany's construction tops $3 million in '77

ALBANY — Construction of a $500,000 brothers' residence at Saint Mary's College High School was one of the major construction projects in Albany during 1977, according to a report issued today.

Another big project was the $480,000 night-lighting facility installed at Golden Gate Fields for night harness racing, according to the public works department's annual report.

Golden Gate Fields also spent $81,600 for covering a portion of the tennis courts located there, according to the report.

Malvina Reynolds film at library

ALBANY — "Love It Like A Fool," a new film about Malvina Reynolds, will be shown Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Albany Library.

Filmmaker Susan Wenig will be present to introduce and discuss the film and to talk with the audience. For more information on this free program, readers may call the Albany Library, 526-3720.

PUTTING ON HIS TOP HAT — Rod Haney (center) gets an assist with his chapparell chapeau from Larry and Judy (checkered shirts) Tannahill, as the trio gear for the "Buttons and Bows" hoe-down. Some 175 attended the country western dance staged in the Veterans' Memorial Building recently, that netted $1,500 for the Little League operation.

Public hearing scheduled

Albany teachers submit '78 contract proposals

ALBANY — A public hearing on contract proposals submitted by the Albany Unified School District's teachers and members of its Employees Association, will be conducted May 9 in the Marin Elementary School's multi-purpose room, AUSD Superintendent Charles McCully announced today.

"The session, opening at 8 p.m., will provide the public an opportunity to respond or comment on these initial proposals," McCully said.

"Copies of all proposals are available at all school offices and the district administration office."

The 58-page document formulated by the Albany Teachers Association (CTA-NEA) requests a 12.3 percent salary increase that includes an 8.31 percent cost-of-living raise and a straight four percent increase in pay over that contained in the 1977-78 salary schedule.

Also requested are "anniversary payments of $350 upon 15 years of service, and an addition of $350 every third year thereafter."

Under health and welfare benefits the teachers ask that the current level maintained for the 1978-79 contract year with the addition of a paid prescription plan for employees and dependents.

The proposal also suggests that class sizes, from kindergarten through the third grade, be limited to 25 pupils, and grades four through 12 to 27 students.

The 106-page contract form submitted by the local unit of the California School Employees Association (CSEA), asks $1.10 per hour across the board increase for all employees and a quarterly cost-of-living adjustment based on the Federal Consumer Price Index.

Also proposed is a longevity increment of $15 after 10 years of service with the district, which would be added to the employees' regular monthly pay.

Benefits listed include a paid employee and dependent coverage for prescription drugs, medical, dental and vision insurance, improved Blue Cross and Kaiser plans, and district paid life-insurance for each worker.

Vacations would range from two weeks after the first year of service, to five weeks after 16 years of employment.

Bruce Arnold heads Albany school board

ALBANY — Architect Bruce Arnold has become president of the Albany School Board for the second time in his six years service.

The board reorganized April 25 by selecting Arnold as president and Ruth Ganong as vice president.

Slated were three new board members, Bonnie Cediel, Jean Tenret and Peggy Thomsen.

They replaced retired board members Robert Chin, Robert Nehls and Jack Rosano. During the past year, Chin had served as board president and Rosano as vice president.

Arnold and Ms. Ganong both were first elected to the board in 1972 and re-elected in 1976. The Albany city charter limits board members to two consecutive four-year terms, although they are eligible to run again after a two-year period off the board.

The three new board members were winners among eight candidates in the April 11 election.

Council's mail service complaint gets action

ALBANY — Official complaints about the mail service have led to a later final pickup time at the Albany Post Office and the city hall.

The last pickup has been moved from 5 p.m. to 6:20 p.m. at the post office and the final pickup at the city hall is moved to 6:15 p.m.

Mayor Lewis Howell announced the revised schedules at the council meeting, Monday night, noting that they resulted from the city's complaints forwarded to postal authorities and legislators.

In other business, the council:

● Learned that Pacific Gas and Electric Company's proposed conversion of street lighting from mercury vapor to sodium vapor would save the city about $550 per month, as explained by Area Manager Don Dowdell. The council asked for a report from the public works director.

● Learned that the Nov. 11 Veterans Day Parade will be held in Hayward. The Albany Chamber of Commerce earlier had planned to raise funds needed by Albany if it became the host city.

● Appointed Mayor Howell as an alternative representative to the Association of Bay Area Governments. Councilwoman Joyce Jackson is the regular representative.

Kindergarten invitation to parents

ALBANY — Parents of children eligible for kindergarten in the Albany School District next September are invited to visit kindergarten classes this year at their neighborhood schools.

"Parents are asked to call the appropriate school office to set a specific time to visit classes. (It is requested that you do not bring your pre-schoolers to these observation sessions)," Richard Rosenquist, assistant superintendent, said.

Callers will be scheduled into a thirty minute period on the Tuesday of their choice. As kindergarten teachers will be carrying on the instruction of the day parents are asked to limit their visits to observing the program rather than entering into discussions with teachers.

Simmons said the last three officers hired were rookies and the department needs a "street ready" man this time who does not have to spend initial weeks at the training academy.

Simmons also said the expansion of Golden Gate Fields operations to night harness racing requires a four-member track detail.

For this reason, he plans to submit a recommendation for hiring two additional officers as part of the 1978-79 budget.

In the past four years the department has received three additional officers — a detective, a traffic officer and a regular patrolman. At present, the police department is "strained" to meet its duties with the existing staff, Simmons added. The department has 19 uniformed officers including four sergeants, plus four women police officer-clerks, a juvenile officer, a lieutenant, a captain and the chief.

Howell commented that the most recent hiring, a traffic officer, had strong public support. He added that Albany residents appear to "trust" their elected police chief, replying to an audience member's comment that Simmons' statements should be examined more carefully.

Ms. Jackson said there are aspects of the current hiring that will require some private discussion by the council.

Leticia Griffin, wife of recalled councilman Pat Griffin, asked about affirmative action in the hiring. Simmons said this is handled during the county's preparation of a civil service list in the recruitment and advertising stage.

The featured film is "Hard Rider," an intimate look at the life of a cowboy on the rodeo circuit. This documentary will be accompanied by the short, "Record Ride for the Pony Express," in which Walter Cronkite and the crew of "You Are There" recreate a stirring moment in the history of the Old West.

The free program is sponsored by the Albany Library and will last approximately 90 minutes. Although seniors are especially invited, everyone is welcome.

Volunteers for Albany block coordinator program sought

ALBANY — The Albany Block Coordinator Program, which organizes neighborhood volunteers to monitor and assist with the needs of nearby elderly and handicapped, today made an appeal for "greater participation by city residents."

"Although over sixty concerned citizens are already serving as neighborhood block coordinators, many more are still needed to serve as liaison between elderly or handicapped individuals and the services available to them," officials said.

The Albany program, a project of the Committee on Aging, staffed with CETA employees and operating under the Parks and Recreation Department, not only effective in connecting people with service providers, but the elderly and handicapped and block appreciate the neighborliness is generated," according to Chairman Abbott, project coordinator.

Also needed are volunteers who can visit older citizens in their homes once a week.

Anyone wishing to help out with these valuable community services is urged to call either the program office at 661-1000 weekdays from 10 to 4, or the Senior Center at 8500 any time.

Jim Turner, who served as Albany's city administrator for more than 16 years, has accepted a similar post in Bishop, California, Larry Sellers, former city attorney, revealed today.

Turner's resignation from the Albany office last May 10 precipitated a movement that eventually resulted in the ouster of two councilmen, Pat Griffin and Mike Gleason. Also named in the recall, and retaining her seat by a narrow margin, was Mayor Joyce Jackson.

Jim Turner started work in Bishop Monday.

Insulation program continuing

ALBANY — The City of Albany is continuing to participate in a federally funded weatherization program which provides blown-in ceiling insulation to low-income Albany residents. Eight homes have been provided with this free service. Weatherstripping is also provided.

"This type of weatherization can result in significant savings in heating costs during the winter months. It also results in cooler homes during the summer," a spokesman for the project said.

Both homeowners and renters, with owner approval, are eligible. Due to the fact that both the labor and materials are provided free, residents must meet federal income guidelines. To be eligible the resident's monthly income must not exceed $327 for a one-person household, $422 for a two-person household, and so forth, with $106 per month added to the maximum income limit for each additional person in the household. However, any person receiving SSI or AFDC benefits are automatically eligible, "no matter what their income is."

All interested persons may contact Cliff Marks, Public Works Department, at 644-8343.

Albany receives $15,450 in interest from LAIF funds

ALBANY — The City of Albany this week received $15,450 as the 1978 first quarter interest payment on funds deposited with the State's Local Agency Investment Fund (LAIF). Payments to all of the 301 cities, counties and special districts participating in the LAIF total $7,500,965, according to California State Treasurer Jesse M. Unruh.

"This program allows local agencies to voluntarily deposit their temporarily idle funds with the Treasurer's office for the purpose of investment," Unruh said. "Money deposited in this fund is pooled with other state money and invested through the State's Pooled Money Investment Account."

"This program makes it possible for local agencies to increase their investment earnings and at the same time improve their liquidity. Interest paid for the first quarter of 1978 was at the rate of 6.97 percent."

"Now in its second year of operation, the plan allows local agencies to make deposits and withdrawals in multiples of $1,000 with minimum transactions of $5,000. Deposits can be converted to cash in 24 hours or less, depending on the time of notice. Local government agencies are able, under this arrangement, to take advantage of the investment experts already available in the Treasurer's office at no additional expense to the taxpayers," Unruh concluded.

"As You Like It," directed by Anne McNaughton, will open August 2 and run in repertory with "Henry." The final offering, opening Aug. 23, will be "Hamlet," directed by George Kovach.

BART budget anticipates Older Americans 'no increase in fares' Month proclaimed

OAKLAND — BART General Manager Frank C. Herringer has recommended to the district board's administration committee a tentative fully-funded operating budget of $91.6 million for the 1978-79 fiscal year with no anticipated fare increase.

The proposed budget will provide expanded service levels including full weekend operations and direct Richmond-Daly City service while at the same time decreasing current authorized staffing levels by over 70 positions due to increased productivity.

General Manager Herringer said the proposed budget actually projects a surplus of approximately $790,000, and he was hopeful that this positive picture could be improved upon further in the coming year.

For the second year in a row the budget has been built from the ground up and tied to specific goals and objectives set by the BART Board of Directors earlier this year. Some of the goals and objectives include the District's continued effort toward improving service performance, operating 46 trains on the system during peak hours (currently 36), including the planned direct Richmond-Daly City service which is subject to California Public Utilities Commission approval, increase the number of hours of operation on Saturdays from the current 15 hours to 18 hours by September 1978, and instituting Sunday service on July 2.

The current fiscal budget is $82.3 million, and BART projects a $1.8 million surplus. The proposed tentative budget presented above represents an 11 percent increase over the current year's budget, eight percent of which is the net increase associated with service improvements.

Herringer said the budget as presented did not reflect the possible impacts should Proposition 13, the Jarvis-Gann Initiative, be successful in June.

So, should that happen BART would have a potential deficit of $16.6 million, $6.7 million directly from the property tax, and the remainder from various other sources which might no longer be available to the District.

"This could result in eliminating weekend service entirely, cutting back weekday night service from midnight to 8 p.m., reductions in staff, and a significant fare increase.

"A contingency budget would be prepared to reflect these changes from the current budget proposal should they become necessary," he concluded.

ALBANY — Mayor Lewis M. Howell today proclaimed May "Older Americans Month," complying to a request made by the national headquarters of the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP).

"The focus of attention will be on older Americans and their great value to communities everywhere, for the vast amount of volunteer service they give to civic committees, charitable organizations, hospitals, convalescent homes, senior centers, retired senior volunteer programs, churches, and other organizations," Mayor Howell said.

Albany Chapter 2618 of the AARP is contacting local churches, requesting them to preach one sermon during the month that focuses attention on older Americans, according to Isabelle G. Betten, president of the unit.

"Members will be in the Albany branch of the Mechanics Bank, the Bank of America and Allstate Savings and Loan with displays of Modern Maturity and other AARP literature," Mrs. Betten said.

"Last year our local chapter contributed 26,000 hours of volunteer service to charitable organizations, senior centers, hospitals, convalescent homes and to various other civic committees," she added.

Mayor Howell's proclamation states: WHEREAS, The American Association of Retired Persons is an organization whose motto is "To Serve, Not To Be Served," whose members serve in charitable organizations, senior centers, Retired Senior Volunteer Programs of all the areas, hospitals, rest homes, convalescent homes, and in civic projects and on civic committees, and

WHEREAS, Senior Centers of our City are encouraging older persons to participate in programs and craft classes, and the Retired Senior Volunteer Program is recruiting seniors to help in many fields of endeavors; and

WHEREAS, many other groups of older Americans, including local Committees on Aging, are serving in many capacities to help older persons where that help is needed,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, LEWIS M. HOWELL, Mayor of the City of Albany do hereby declare the month of May as "OLDER AMERICANS MONTH," and ask that the citizens of the City of Albany to be aware of the accomplishments of the older people, and for the younger generation to take advantage of the vast experience, skills and talents of the older people so that our community may advance together, young and old alike.

LEWIS M. HOWELL, Mayor of the City of Albany

Cory said that the names now being advertised are in addition to the February publication of 77,585 owners of property worth more than $35.1 million. During this fiscal year Cory has advertised and written to

Senior Citizens' news

By Marty Rosman, Stephanie Fall Creek

Today — Adult classes continue every Wednesday, including subjects of interest to all seniors (free registration — call 644-8500 for details). The 4 o'clock dinner features roast leg of pork (be sure to call several days ahead for dinner reservations).

Thursday — Play bingo and win a prize! The action starts at 10:30, and winds up at 11:30 with community singing. Bring a bag lunch for noontime, then play cards during the afternoon. Beef burgundy is on the menu for supper. Entertainment tonight by the Cornell School chorus. Note: sign up today for Sunday's Eagle's Auxiliary 5 o'clock dinner.

Friday — Greet the morning sun with healthful exercise in Sue's class at 8:30. Join the Community Service group at 10 as they work on charitable projects, helping such organizations as Cerebral Palsy and Cystic Fibrosis. After a bag lunch, the bridge party gets under way at 12:30. Dinner tonight stars braised fish; stay on afterwards for our Adult School teacher Leo Vuosalo's talk and film on "Sweden & the Aged."

Saturday — A variety of activities throughout the day every Saturday. Leo leads "Cultures and Countries" class at 9:45 (the stitchery group meets at 9:30). The 11:45 bingo has a new name: the "Silver Toppers" — drop in and join the fun! Bag lunch, then enjoy dancing lead by Jean from 2 to 5. The weekly senior dance starts at 8 at Marin School, featuring a live band and refreshments — $1.50 at the door. This event is lots of fun and very popular — give it a try!

Special Note: Bring contributions for Sunday's rummage sale to the Senior Center or the University Village Community Center on Saturday. All kinds of items are needed. We can also use help in sorting and pricing on both days, so volunteer if you can.

Sunday — Quiet day at the Center — drop in for a chat or cards and a cup of coffee. Dance practice with Myriam at the pre-school next door from 2 to 4. Rummage sale today! — at the Village Community Center from 10 to 4. Proceeds to benefit Senior Center activities — tell your friends! Don't forget that the Eagle's dinner is at 5 because of the sale. NOTE: we're having a bake sale, too, so bring baked goods to the Community Center by 10 Sunday morning (or on Saturday if necessary).

Monday — Creative writing with Marcy at 9. The regular noon bag lunch, and Edna Lawson leads the watercolor group. The Albany library staff will show short western films at 2 — free to seniors and others. The menu for dinner includes spaghetti and meat sauce, followed by the Gerri Lee Variety Dancers, performing for your after-dinner pleasure.

Tuesday — Pearl Cook continues her interesting bread jewelry class at 10 (the needlecraft group meets then, too). After a bag lunch, Sue's exercise class limbers up with fun and beneficial movement. For supper we'll have braised veal and vegetables, then songs by Mary Giles.

Seniors and all other interested citizens are invited to attend meetings of the Albany Committee on Aging every second and fourth Tuesday evening at the Senior Center. Call and share your view on local issues that effect seniors.

There are still some openings for the MGM Hotel — Reno trip on May 22, staying overnight and returning on May 23. Reservations $27.50, with bonus $35 in funds. Sign up soon!

Don't forget the trip to Marriott's Great America on June 13. Enjoy the ride and shows — $12.00 includes everything but food.

The AARP defensive driving class with Sam Dows is scheduled for May 13 and 20. AARP members call the Center at 644-8500 for reservations at nominal charge; non-members call 526-8675, 525-0509 or 525-8500 for information.

Dear Sir:
That was quite an article about my World War I experiences you had in your paper four weeks ago. I hadn't conceded before that I was a "putterer" in the garden, but at age 83 what else?

I sent a copy to my grandchildren in Virginia. Their mother had a pen-dulum made of my medal received for my service in Verdun, and they wear it proudly.

Thanks for your interest.

Sincerely
Floyd Marshall

Dear Sir:
The Albany Little League is taking this means to publicly acknowledge the generosity of those who gave the "extras" to make the league's annual dance held last Saturday the most profitable ever.

Contributors were Mayor Lewis Howell, Albany Chamber of Commerce President Ed Elliott, Vice Mayor Robert Luoma, Mary and Joe's Sporting Goods, Nevada Tahoe Tours, Albany Chamber of Commerce, Albany T.V., Discounts Unlimited, Zari's Delicatessen, Jack and Pat Dempster, Young Savings, Gersh Photo, Park and Shop Market, Bob Flynn of Compass Realty, and Councilman Louis George.

The dance committee is equally grateful to the Little League boosters who attended the dance giving the league a giant push on its opening day.

Sincerely
Betty Harris

Dear Sir:
ABC-TV's special "The New Army: A Shocking Stage of Readiness" was a shabby piece of journalism, a thinly disguised communist diatribe which used the plight of enlisted servicemen to argue paramonically for escalation of The Cold War and The Arms Race.

The network detailed the low quality of Army volunteer life, quick-cut-editing interviews with hand-picked illiterates and glib officers passing their men off as "losers." There was more condescension than compassion, plus broad hints that the draft produced smarter soldiers for less money.

SAN FRANCISCO — An exhibition of rare pre-Columbian goldwork from Peru will be shown this summer at the California Academy of Sciences. The exhibition is titled, Peru's Golden Treasures and features 222 brilliant golden works of art and artifacts used by the ruling classes of the Inca and pre-Inca civilizations. It is on loan from the Museo Oro del Peru in Lima and makes its only western states' stop in San Francisco from June 15 through September 17, 1978 at the California Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park.

But the really outrageous hypocrisy came halfway through the program when the smug commentator began contrasting demoralized American G.I.'s with superior Soviet troops, intimating that our grunts are cowards who would turn tail in the face of a "Communist" offensive backed by more and better Russian weapons.

Also, ABC-TV indicated that the neutron bomb could not be used because of opposition by anti-nuclear groups (how ironic to blame us peacekeepers for not wanting civilization to meet a fate worse than death), and because it might touch off a Soviet nuclear attack. Therefore, ABC argued, we must beef up our conventional forces.

This sort of rationale is despicable. Sure, the army is falling apart. The volunteers couldn't get jobs at home and won't get them afterward. And they know it. So what do they have to fight for? ... the system that screws them? Not bloody likely!

Thursday night's broadcast was pure propaganda of the worst kind: 50's style. I just have to wonder who put ABC up to it.

JOHN MAYBURY

Editor:
Dear Sir:

Judy Williamson was stabbed in the throat and between the eyes a total of 17 times, by a young man twice her size, and strong as an ox, her blood allowed to drain from her body into an isolated garage floor. Her body was then buried in a remote forest. The punishment for a crime like this? Young Egenberger should now be stabbed 17 times in the throat, between the eyes and in the chest, until all his blood is drained from his body. His remains could then be fed to the wild animals in a remote forest, or thrown to the sharks of the sea.

But with our current crop of soft headed judges, the current method of selecting our juries, elected officials such as Governor Brown, Tom Bates, Ron Dellums, Ken Meade — the list goes on and on — "justice" like this could never be carried out. But if it were, don't you think grisly slayings of this sort would be drastically reduced?

Student of the Month

ALBANY—Marcie Cornish has distinguished herself at Albany High School with her work on the Cougar yearbook staff and with her exceptional contributions to the school theater program, "Dosier Heisabek," theater director, said yesterday.

She has performed major supporting roles in two A.H.S. productions with notable artistic success. She has also distinguished herself as a theater crewperson. The demanding responsibilities of the Assistant to the Director on the recent production of "Bye Bye Birdie" was Marcie's most recent achievement. "Marcie Cornish is an excellent example of outstanding student spirit and exceptional accomplishment," he concluded.

As Student of the Month, Marcie will receive a free dinner and a $10 gift certificate from the local McDonald's which sponsors the monthly award.

New policy on drunken driving

OAKLAND — Alameda County will begin its post-conviction drinking driver treatment program on April 24, Carl Lester, director of alcohol and drug abuse services, Alameda County Health Care Services Agency, has announced.

At the option of the court, any person convicted of driving while intoxicated on or after that date may participate for at least one year in the program in lieu of suspension of driving privileges, Lester said.

The Board of Supervisors has designated Occupational Health Services, Inc., Oakland, to carry out the program. Last year 7,724 persons were convicted of driving while intoxicated in Alameda County. Second or subsequent offenses accounted for 2,190 of the convictions.

Gasoline use sets new mark

SACRAMENTO — California motorists burned 863.75 million gallons of gasoline in February 1978, a record high for that month. William M. Bennett, member, State Board of Equalization, reported today that February gasoline consumption was 5.2 percent higher than February 1977 and 6.5 percent higher than February 1976. Bennett noted, however, that February gas consumption figures show the normal pattern of decline from January, down 4.9 percent from that month.

Gasoline distribution date show taxable sales by distributors to retail outlets, brokers, and certain other distributors. Refiners, importers, and wholesale distributors pay 7-cents-per-gallon tax on their distributions to retailers. The State Board of Equalization administers the state fuel tax.

Community Theatre sets auditions for 'Bus Stop'

By W. KAY BOKENKAMP

ALBANY — The Albany Community Theatre auditions for "Bus Stop" by William Inge are going to be held in the Albany Little Theatre at 603 Key Route Boulevard from 7 to 9 p.m., Monday and Tuesday, Paul Shepard, the director is looking forward to seeing as many people as possible during those audition times. Anyone can try out. An auditioner may have a one or two minute prepared piece; but it is not required. Everyone who comes will have a chance to read a part from "Bus Stop."

The three female characters are Elma Duckworth, Grace Hoyland, and Cherie. Elma is a big-eyed high school girl who works as a waitress in a street corner restaurant. Grace is a more seasoned character in her 30s or early 40s who owns the restaurant. Cherie, a chanteuse, is a young girl from the Ozarks, aged about 20, who is pretty in a fragile, girlish way and has the appeal of a tender little bird.

BHS Class of '63 planning 2-day reunion

New National Smoker Study:

MERIT proven major alternative to high tar smoking—see results below

The first real alternative—major alternative—to high tar smoking has just been reaffirmed by extensive new research conducted among thousands of smokers.

That alternative: MERIT.

Nationwide Studies—Thousands Of Smokers Involved

The research involved a complete spectrum of smokers from both high and low tar backgrounds. It was conducted nationwide and in two parts:

1. A nationwide taste-test comparison against leading high tar cigarettes.
2. Detailed interviews with current MERIT smokers from all over the U.S.

© Philip Morris Inc. 1978

Kings: 8 mg "tar," 0.6 mg nicotine av. per cigarette, FTC Report Aug. '77
100's: 11 mg "tar," 0.8 mg nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

Could MERIT taste hold its own against high tar brands? Does MERIT satisfy smokers over a long period—or do MERIT smokers find themselves slipping back to old favorites and switching around?

The results will interest you:

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers rate MERIT taste equal to—or better than—high tar cigarettes tested! Cigarettes having up to twice the tar.

Confirmed: 9 out of 10 MERIT smokers not considering other brands.

Confirmed: 85% of MERIT smokers say it was an "easy switch" from high tar brands.

Confirmed: Overwhelming majority of MERIT smokers say their former high tar brands weren't missed!

Confirmed: Majority of high tar smokers confirm taste satisfaction of low tar MERIT.

First Major Alternative To High Tar Smoking

MERIT has proven conclusively that it not only delivers the flavor of high tar brands but continues to satisfy!

This ability to satisfy over long periods of time could be the most important evidence to date that MERIT is what it claims to be: the first major alternative to high tar smoking.

Oaks win one-hitter

Gary Ambrosini and Skip McGree delivered two-run homers for their first hits of the El Cerrito Mustang League season to spark the Action Oaks to a 5-0 victory over the Athletics. Mike Irvin, who struck out in the first two innings; Tim Hiscox, who pitched seven over the next three frames, and Mile Brown, who moved down over the final two, combined to pitch a one-hitter for the Oaks.

Jackpot Doubles gets under way

By PHIL ALSTON

ALBANY — Art Lane forged a 673 series and Bob Mann added 622 as the pair went into second place in the Jackpot Doubles standings at Albany Bowl with a handicap total of 1330. Lane's games were 234-225-214.

Using the same 1295 scratch total but a different handicap basis, they ranked third in the house eliminations of the East Bay Summer Doubles at 1367.

Ron Muzio and Aljoe Mandorio, 1232-162-1394, moved into second on the East Bay list. Muzio shot 611, Mandorio 621.

Ron Irving shot 641 as he and Evans Moreland claimed the third spot in Jackpot Doubles with 1299.

The week's best league tally was Larry Clement's 657 for the Saturday Swingers League, which also had Jack Jordan at 620.

John Martin pitched a 204-202-202 for 608 to lead 650 Scratch and won the Woodstacker sweepstakes by adding 69 pins handicap to 601 for 670.

Roy Owens topped Nite Owls with 621. Jerry Laurella had 619 for Fraternalza Mixed, Jack Keflas 615 in Nevada Tahoe Tours, and Bob Hemphill 610 for Oakland Chinese.

Curtis McGray gave the After Dinner Fours a 583 set despite a 145 middle game. He started with 224, ended with 214.

Hugh Johnson had 247 game, 591 series to lead the Junior-Senior Fours. Maury Butler hit 238-569 in the game league, and Mike Sanchez had 245-552 in the American Legion Majors.

Dorris McIntosh once again paced Albany Eagles, this time on 545, and for Homesteaders Jo McElroy hit 544, Lucy Sandretto 542.

In other sweepstakes action, marking the end of league play, Jack Baker, 130 average, won the Tuesday Mixed with 491-189-680, Roxanne Von Scholchtern, 111 average, the Bonanza Blue Chip with 626, and Walt Chamberlain the 660 Classic with 600-108-708.

Lessons in fly-casting to be resumed

OAKLAND — With California's worst-ever drought now just a dusty memory, the Oakland Casting Club is resuming its popular fly-casting class at McCrea Park, Carson Street near the Warren Freeway.

Beginning May 11, the class will cover the basics of fly-casting and trout fishing. Class members should bring an 8-8 1/2-foot rod matched for No. 6 or No. 7 lines and a floating line.

Readers may phone Earl Bates at 524-2544 or stop by McCrea on Sundays, 10-1 p.m., for more information.

Hatchery trout go on diet

SACRAMENTO — Catchable-sized trout are watching their weight in three state Department of Fish and Game hatcheries these days while south state streams return to shape for stocking following heavy winter and spring rains.

Until streamflows recede and access to streams improves, the fish are simply going to have to remain in the hatcheries — some as much as five weeks longer than normal.

The problem is, under normal conditions, the fish would continue to grow and soon outstrip their assigned living space in the hatcheries.

So the DFG has come up with a plan to put the fish on a maintenance program as quickly as they reach catchable size — four to the pound and 7 to 10 inches long.

Key to the maintenance

Athlete of the Week

Angelo Gilbert literally hurled himself into an "Athlete of the Week" title. The 16-year-old Albany High School junior pitched six innings against Encinal, last Monday, striking out nine and giving up two runs, and hit a double for the Cougars that scored two runs.

The following day, playing first base against Encinal, he batted in three runs. Friday Angelo hit a grand slam and a two-run single, and pitched the final two innings, striking out four.

Looking beyond the baseball season, he plans to attend either Arizona State or Alameda Community College. He wants to major in business while continuing his baseball career in college, "and then go into some sort of business for myself."

WCB OK's development, acquisition projects

SACRAMENTO — The state Wildlife Conservation Board Monday gave the green light to several projects including development of a public access site in eastern Los Angeles County and the acquisition of nearly 17,000 acres of deer range, 185 acres of coastal wetlands and 310 acres of interior wetlands and riparian habitat.

Allocated for the development project, which was proposed by Los Angeles County, was $295,500 for the construction of public access facilities at Peck Lake on the Rio Hondo wash in western San Gabriel Valley.

The 80-acre lake and 76 acres of adjacent property lie within the cities of Arcadia and Monrovia. Formerly a gravel pit, the lake has been planted with channel catfish by the Department of Fish and Game since 1975 and the DFG plans to stock catchable trout there after access has been improved.

Development will consist of an access road, parking area, restroom, paths, fishing float and related improvements. The county expects to provide picnic facilities and to permit overnight camping later. In the larger of two deer range projects, the WCB voted to acquire 10,800 acres of private land on the lower, eastern slopes of the Sierra Nevada in northern Mono County.

Included in the property, a significant part of the winter range for the West Walker deer herd, are 6,422 acres in Slinkard Valley, 3,178 acres in Little Antelope Valley and four smaller parcels. According to the staff analysis, acquisition will protect the land from subdivision and provide recreational opportunities such as hunting, fishing and hiking.

The other deer range acquisition involves 6,136 acres of habitat in western Merced County near the San Benito-Santa Clara county line at a cost of $722,000.

Involved are two parcels extending along Highway 152 from near the base to the crest of Pacheco Pass — 4,098 acres of steep, rugged terrain on the west and 2,038 acres of rolling hills and slopes ranging up to 1,278 feet on the east.

The land was part of the property acquired for developing San Luis Reservoir and O'Neill Forebay for the State Water Project. It is no longer needed by the Department of Water Resources.

In addition to providing key habitat for deer, the property supports California quail, jackrabbits, cottontails, squirrels, hawks and, seasonally, golden eagles.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE

There will be public hearings to discuss amendments and changes to the City of Albany Zoning Ordinance (Ordinance 61-011).

The purpose of these changes is to bring the ordinance into conformity with the General Plan, as adopted June, 1975. All property owners received mail notification which listed the proposed change to the zoning of their property.

Below is a summary of the changes in the Zoning Districts:

- The density of the area presently zoned R-1650 is proposed to be changed to a lower density, (from a lot area per dwelling unit requirement of 1650 square feet to 1875 square feet). This would still permit a duplex on a 3750 square foot lot, but would no longer permit a triplex on a 5000 square foot lot.
- The area along the west side of Masonic between Washington and Dartmouth, which is presently zoned R-2, is proposed to be changed to a zoning district which would only permit lower density development.
- The density bonus schedule recommended by the Albany General Plan would be established in the R-3 District. According to this proposed schedule, fewer dwelling units could be built on smaller lots as compared to the number of units permitted by the present ordinance.
- Those areas included in the Albany Hill Area Specific Plan are proposed to be rezoned from R-1-HC, R-3-HC and R-1-H to a newly created Hillside Development (HD) District.
- Changing the Waterfront area, west of Hoffman Boulevard and Interstate 80 from Industrial (M) to Waterfront (WF), with commercial recreation as the main permitted use.
- Changing a portion of the Albany Village area from Industrial (M) and R-3 to R-2.
- Portions of certain properties which are presently located within two separate zoning districts are proposed to be changed so that the properties are located within only one of the districts.

If you have any questions regarding this matter, please call the Department of Public Works, 644-8543, either Cliff Marks or Robert Guletz.

The maps and changes are on public display at:

Senior Citizens Center, 846 Masonic Avenue
Albany Library
Department of Public Works

Public Hearings will be held:

MAY 17, 1978, 8:00 P.M., Council Chambers, 1000 San Pablo Avenue, Albany
Article 2, Section 2.01 to Section 2.20, which include all of the zoning districts within the City of Albany, will be discussed.

MAY 24, 1978, 8:00 P.M., Council Chambers, 1000 San Pablo Avenue, Albany
Article 1 — General Provisions; Article 3, City Wide regulations; Article 4 — Procedures and Administration.

MAY 31, 1978, 8:00 P.M., Council Chambers, 1000 San Pablo Avenue, Albany
Article 5 — Specific regulations, including signs, Home Occupations and tree cutting will be discussed.

Peruvian textile weaving

SAN FRANCISCO — A fascinating display on the highly refined art of Peruvian textile weaving opens May 15 at the California Academy of Sciences in Golden Gate Park. The exhibit features many fine examples of tunics, shirts, headgear and fragments of beautifully patterned materials which were probably clothing or pieces of mummy bundle wrappings. Also included are delicately worked coca bags, carrying bags, similar to the modern day purse, and carrying cloths, used like a suitcase.

Evidence of weaving in ancient Peru dates back as early as 2500 B.C. It is generally believed that there was a rigid social structure in pre-Hispanic Peruvian civilizations and that only the most skilled weavers were allowed to make the garments and accessories of the ruling classes. The material on display in PERUVIAN TEXTILES: A WEAVER'S ART include these high quality fabrics used by the upper classes, mostly from pre-Inca civilizations.

To enhance the visitor's understanding of the intricate methods and advanced techniques of weaving in ancient Peru, oversize looms illustrate the various weaving and looping techniques with the different types of material common to the area... cotton thread and alpaca and llama wool yarn. There are also three-dimensional tableaux showing various scenes from daily life, each mannikin "wearing" the items of clothing believed appropriate to his class and activity. The exhibit is comprised of material from the Reitz Collection.
